Graduate School of International Studies (GSIS)

Since its establishment in 1997, Sogang GSIS has earned a preeminent reputation for its high academic standards, distinguished faculty members, and a superb array of multidisciplinary programs. Our small class sizes allow students to actively engage with professors and create a family-like atmosphere which is evidenced by our students' high rating of satisfaction. As of 2018, more than 130 students from 30 countries are enrolled in this program. Sharing and learning from unique experiences that each international student offers will be a crucial part of your experience at Sogang GSIS.

Program

- International Relations (including National Intelligence & Security Track)
- International Trade
- International Finance
- Korea and East Asia

Scholarships

Sogang GSIS offers scholarships of 25%~100% of tuition to new students according to their performance in the admissions process. From the second semester on, the amount of scholarship is determined based on their GPA of the previous semester (a minimum GPA 3.5 for M.A., 4.0 for Ph.D. on a scale of 4.3, more than 9 credits acquired). A student who did not graduate from the university in an English speaking country should submit the official English test report with the certain required score during their first year at Sogang GSIS. Students can apply for TA or RA from their second semester for the additional scholarship.

Sogang STEM Lab Internship Program

Undergraduate exchange students majoring in Engineering or Natural Sciences may apply for the Sogang STEM Lab Internship Program. It is designed to provide students with a hands-on learning experience through interactions with professors and graduate students. This program has flexible hours, with a maximum of five hours per week during the academic semester. Students will be assigned to a research lab based on the information they provide in their Lab Internship Program applications.

Application:

Students may apply for this program before the beginning of each semester. A separate notice with program details will be provided to exchange students every semester.

Sogang Service Learning Program

This program is a two-credit service learning course consisting of 7-8 classroom sessions (lecture, discussion, student presentations, and more), and at least 30 hours of community service during the academic semester. Participants will consist of international and Korean students. Volunteer work placements will be assigned in the course, and course materials, discussions and student presentations will be in English.

Application:

Students may register for the program during course registration period.

Seoul Global Internship

Sogang University collaborates closely with the Seoul Metropolitan Government to provide exchange students with an opportunity to work during their semester or year in Korea. Students may work at various offices affiliated with Seoul Metropolitan Government during summer and winter vacations. The internship program is 7 weeks long and suitable candidates will be selected by the Seoul Metropolitan Government.

Application:

Students may apply for the program during the semester. A separate notice with program details will be provided to students in June (for the summer internship) and in December (for the winter internship).

Direct-Enrollment Program for International Students

Students from international universities that do not currently have an exchange agreement with Sogang, or students from partner universities who do not come through the exchange student program but who wish to take courses at Sogang, are welcome to do so for one or two semesters (1 year at most).

Sogang offers a high-quality learning experience for students who wish to fully immerse themselves in university life in Korea. Students will be able to take courses in both Korean and English.

- Admission of a Direct-Enrollment student depends greatly on submitted documents.
- Applicants should complete at least 2 semesters at their home university (must be a bachelor degree program).
- Direct-Enrollment students may take up to 15 credits during Spring/Fall semester, and up to 6 credits during Summer/Winter session.
- Tuition waivers are not provided to Direct-Enrollment students. Tuition is determined by major.
